The Indian art market, although in the emergent stage, is booming. IIMA-AuraArt Indian Art Index is a newly launched tool that tracks the price appreciation journey of Indian artists at auctions globally. Created by IIM-A with city-based Aura Art Development Pvt Ltd, it works on a data-driven methodology that analyses price variations in art auctions of top 25 Indian artists including MF Husain and SH Raza over 20 years. Professor Prashant Das who conceptualised the algorithm, said, "The idea is to bring transparency to the pricing of art. It establishes art as an asset class."
